The Planning Authority (PA) has announced that it has scheduled 11 British-era coastal batteries, designating them as Grade 1 and Grade 2 buildings.

Vendôme Battery was built in 1715-1716 as part of the first building programme of coastal batteries in Malta. It was part of a chain of fortifications that defended the northern coast of Malta, which also included Ahrax Tower, several batteries, redoubts and entrenchments. The nearest fortifications to Vendôme Battery are Qortin Redoubt to the west and Crivelli Redoubt to the east. The battery was named after Philippe
